American Medical ID will soon market the first ever engravable USB Dog Tag ID necklace. Engrave your most important medical highlights on the external surface of the USB Dog Tag ID...house your more detailed information on the form provided inside the ID on the USB drive. It's the perfect combination of the tried and true and newer technology. You'll be hearing more about it from us and in the media. Stay tuned!

With the arrival of fall – finally – remember that the holiday season will soon be upon us. Consider an engraved medical ID bracelet or necklace as a gift idea for someone close to you. With our recent new collections, your gift can have the “wow” factor of a piece of fine jewelry while giving peace of mind at the same time.

Speaking of WOW, check out our latest addition to the Odyssey Collection. Read about it below.

Now that it is cooler, why not start a walking program this fall? And what better way to start than walking for a cure. Join American Medical ID in supporting the Food Allergy and Anaphylaxis Network: Walk for Food Allergy by participating in one of its many walks across the U.S. See the link below.

Finally, we've offered some articles and recipes we thought you might find of interest. Have a great fall season!
